

Midsummer 2012 Baptism of Light and Triple Royal Arch Gateway to the Golden Age

Vision/Communication received by Peter Dawkins 28/04/2012

The Teacher appeared before me in a wonderful form of light, but despite this my attention was taken by a very bright, brilliant star shining high up in the heavens far above his left shoulder. There was something about its light that was very important. At first I thought I was being shown a new supernova occurring somewhere – it had that sort of feeling and appearance. I started to wonder about a supernova in Cassiopeia, or Cygnus, or somewhere similar in meaning. I knew instinctively that this bright star had immense meaning and that I was being shown it on purpose, as a marker of some great event that was either happening or about to happen.

Then The Teacher told me that what I was seeing was the star Sirius. He then asked me to remember the experience I had some years ago whilst staying with friends near Lake Constance. Whilst meditating in their sanctuary, I had become aware of the sound emanating from the Pleiades – a sound or vibration which had a primary effect on the evolution of our planet Earth. Our planet had been evolving on this vibration or frequency for a long period of time. Then suddenly I heard the sound change and rise one note – i.e. to a higher vibration or frequency than before. This, as was made clear to me as I heard it, was happening there and then, and would affect the whole evolution of mankind and the planet. It was part of entering the new Great Age and Golden Age that lay ahead.

With this reminder from The Teacher, I began to realise that something similar was happening again now, but this time emanating from the star Sirius and this time in terms of light rather than sound – i.e. a new or higher vibration of light, which I saw (rather than heard) as a much brighter light coming from Sirius than ever before. This was extremely significant and was either starting to happen now or was imminent.

The Teacher went on to explain that the main happening which involves Sirius in this way will occur over the midsummer period of this year. He said that there was a four-day Gateway of Time, 20-24 June 2012, in which the Earth, the Sun and the Galactic Heart would be in alignment, and that during this time an immense light and incarnation into the Earth of beings from Sirius would take place, coupled with a huge outpouring of creative energy from the heart of the Galaxy. This was the coming of the God-beings, the ones who would inaugurate the new Golden Age (and end the Kali Yuga or Dark Age). They were energy forms – forms of light – and would incarnate into or merge into whatever receptacle was made ready for them. One could call it an overlighting or a merging of consciousness, but it was more than this.

Essentially, the pattern and process is as follows: –

The Sun at midsummer each year is at present passing over the cusp of Gemini-Taurus, the position where the galactic equator crosses the ecliptic and to which the finger of Orion points. This indicates the Alpha-Omega point of the whole Zodiac. In the sign of Taurus, which is the Alpha or creative sign of the Zodiac, the star group Pleiades sits on the shoulders of Taurus, the Bull. It is from the Pleiades that the major sound of creation for this planet is emanating (in terms of the pattern of the Zodiac). The Pleiades, or a star within the Pleiades system, is the “Sun behind the Sun”. The whole evolution of the Great Age and mankind within it begins with the Age of Taurus and the creative sound of the Pleiades. In this way, via Taurus, the Pleiades channel the Holy Spirit or Breath bearing the Word of God (represented by AUM or IOA) into the world.

After a complete cycle of evolution through the twelve ages of a Great Age, the midsummer Sun comes into the sign of Gemini, the Omega sign of the Zodiac. If the evolution has been initiatic and successful, then illumination is the end result. Those who reach a high level of this illumination rise up to the star Sirius, either metaphorically or actually, as Sirius signifies this high level of illumination. That is to say, whereas Pleiades represents the creative sound, Sirius represents the light of illumination. The former is the Alpha; the latter is the Omega of evolution. They are twins to each other. Sirius is the “Sun behind the Sun behind the Sun” and home of the Horus Beings, the Great Masters. The latter are those who then come as teachers and avatars during each successive age and Great Age, if they so choose.

In between Sirius and Pleiades lies Orion, whose finger points to the Gemini-Taurus cusp. Orion forms the First Person or Principal of the Trinity: the Pleiades represent the Holy Wisdom or Word, Sirius represents the Holy Intelligence or Illumination, and Orion represents the Holy Power or Crown of creation. It is from Al Nilam, the central star of Orion’s Belt, that humanity is said to have come. It signifies the Source. (See Appendices.)

These three (Orion, Pleiades and Sirius) are the three Principals of the Royal Arch. The Royal Arch is the Zodiac. It also signifies the mind. On the other side of the Zodiac to Orion is the heart of the Milky Way Galaxy. This is the real source of all life in the Galaxy. The three Principals (Orion, Pleiades and Sirius) can be understood as projections on the screen of the mind from the heart of the Galaxy, the latter being the projector, as it were. In other words, Orion, Pleiades and Sirius are manifesting the Holy Trinity that lies within the heart of the Galaxy. In the heart this Trinity lies hidden and unknown. In its projection onto the Royal Arch of the heavens, it becomes seen, revealed and known.

The counterpart of the Pleiades on Earth is the British Isles, the alta-major chakra of the planet. Just as the Pleiades lie within Taurus, so the British Isles lie within Europe, the throat chakra of the planet and counterpart on Earth of Taurus in the Zodiac. The earthly counterpart of the zodiacal Gemini is the Middle East. Within or connected to the Middle East is a location that is the earthly counterpart of Sirius in the heavens. Just as the creative sound that begins a Great Age is channelled via the British Isles and Europe, so the light that illuminates the end of a Great Age is revealed in the Middle East and the Sirius location. Because a greater light from Sirius than ever before is now about to baptise the world, so the illumination at the end of the next Great Age will be far greater than that which has occurred at the end of this present Great Age. What is now baptising the Earth in this transition period between these two Great Ages is the spiritual and vibrational seed for the evolution of the new Great Age. It is a double baptism, of sound and light – sound from the Pleiades, light from Sirius. The sound baptism came at the beginning of the transition period; the light baptism is coming at the end of the transition period. We are now in this end period, the time of the light baptism.

This end period contains the final gateway – the Royal Arch Gateway – into the new Great Age. It is a Royal Arch Gateway because the new Great Age will be a Golden Age. This Royal Arch Gateway is threefold; that is to say, it consists of three subsidiary, enfolded gateways. They lie within each other; they do not occur consecutively: –

- The Outer Gateway of the Royal Arch Gateway lies between the midwinter solstice of 2011 and the midwinter solstice of 2012. These are the twin Great Pillars of the Outer Gateway. The 'Middle Pillar' of this Outer Gateway is the midsummer period of 2012.
- The Middle Gateway of the Royal Arch Gateway spans approximately between Beltane 2012 and Lammastide 2012. The exact points in time occur when the Sun is in alignment with the Pleiades during May 2012¹ and when the Sun is in alignment with Sirius during July 2012.² These are the twin Great Pillars of the Middle Gateway. As for the Outer Gateway, the 'Middle Pillar' of this Middle Gateway is the midsummer period of 2012.
- The Inner Gateway of the Royal Arch Gateway is the four-day midsummer period, 20-24 June 2012. The 20 June 2012 and 24 June 2012 are the twin Great Pillars of the Inner Gateway.

The Great Pillars of the Outer Gateway are also marked by the two alternative dates in the Mayan calendar for the start of the 'Fifth World' or Golden Age – 28 October 2011 and 21 December 2012. The latter coincides with the timing as now being given, which is associated with the Sun as a focus of time and energy, whilst the former has been determined by means of a different marker and therefore has a slightly different meaning. In terms of the solar cycle, which is the primary rulership of our planet, it is the solstices that form the main markers of time.

Of these three Royal Arch gateways into the new Great Age, the Inner Gateway is by far the most important. Whatever we do, we're not to miss the midsummer solstice time. It is the most important time of all. It is a time for us to both receive and evolve accordingly, and also to serve and help others to rise up into the greater light that will be gifted to the world during that time. It is a gift, a moment in time, and has to be grasped. If grasped, it can be held onto forevermore and will lift the one who holds onto it up to higher levels of consciousness and evolution. If, however, that moment in time is missed, it will be gone and the opportunity will be lost. It is up to us to be in the right place at the right time, in the right consciousness and serving in the right way, helping as many others as possible in the world to receive and be lifted up by this Great Light that is coming to the world.

Peter Dawkins

Appendices:

- Celestial Zodiac.
- Star Origins.

¹ 20-21 May 2012 - the Sun will be in alignment with the Pleiades and in addition there will be an annular eclipse of the Sun by the Moon (i.e. the Earth, Moon, Sun and Pleiades will be in alignment).

² The date of this 'alignment' is probably 7-8 July 2012, when Sirius rises on the eastern horizon together with the Sun.

Star Origins

Extract from essay, 'The White Lions of Timbavati,' by Peter Dawkins (2006)

Orion, Sirius, Leo and Regulus are all important in the Umlando tradition, as indeed they are in other sacred traditions the world over. The constellation of Orion is associated with Osiris in the Egyptian tradition, and with Christ in the Christian tradition. The star Sirius, known as the Dog-Star because of it being the brightest star in the constellation of Canis Major, the Great Dog, marks the Dog's eye and is primarily associated with Isis and her son, Horus. One of the main hieroglyphic symbols for Isis is an eye, as also for Horus. The Egyptians knew Canis Major as Apes ('the head') and symbolised it as a hawk, hence the star Sirius was, to the Egyptians, the all-seeing eye of the Hawk. Regulus is the equally-bright star that marks the heart of the constellation of Leo, the Lion.

In the African tradition Orion is known as Matsieng, meaning 'He who travels very far', 'the Lord of the Road', or 'the Eternal Wanderer'. He is also the Great Hunter. As the Great Hunter he does not kill the animals he hunts. Instead he just outruns and out-tricks them, captures them alive and then lets them go. That is why he is also known as the Trickster or the Hero. He is followed by his two special companion-friends, Dog (i.e. Canis Major) and Lion (i.e. Leo). The latter is known as Imbubedingile, 'the Exiled Lion', referring to the old lion that is exiled from its pride. It might also relate to the stone that is rejected by the builders of the temple (of Solomon) but which is eventually found to be the chief stone—the capstone or cornerstone that unites all the corners together (i.e. of a pyramid)—that is used as an allegorical description of Christ.

According to the Umlando, as related to Linda Tucker by Credo Mutwa,³ life on our planet originated from our sun and three particular stars—Mbube (i.e. Al Nilam, the central star of Orion's Belt), Li to lapiri (i.e. Sirius) and Mbubedingile (i.e. Regulus). Mbubedingile is known as the heart, Li to lapiri as the eye and Mbube as the soul of the Sky Lion. The various creatures on our planet were given birth (or form) from the zodiacal constellations and then brought to earth from Mbube by the Mighty Hunter, Matsieng. Amongst them were human beings. Everything on earth is controlled by beings from Mbube.

Something similar is known in other traditions, but to the above should be added the Pleiades, the closely-knit group of stars lying on the shoulders or neck of Taurus, the Bull, and which are symbolised as a dove. Several traditions speak of life originating from the Pleiades, and of the human race being descended from that starry home. Whereas Taurus rules the throat, the Pleiades signify the Alta Major (or 8th) chakra, known as the Mouth of God, which in the human is associated with the nape or back of the neck. Through this chakra the Holy Breath or Spirit (i.e. the 'Dove') breathes its wisdom into the heart of each of us and speaks to us (i.e. as inspiration). The Pleiades do the same, in the sense that the vibration or sound that creates and sustains our world appears to emanate from the Pleiades.

The Pleiades is known as the 'sun behind the sun'. Sirius is known as the 'sun behind the sun behind the sun'. This is a spiritual perception; but in fact the earth goes around the sun, our whole solar system goes around a centre in the Pleiades, and the Pleiadean system is said to go around Sirius. Thus the Pleiades really is a sun to our sun, and Sirius is a sun to the Pleiadean sun. All of this is, in turn, rotating about the heart of our galaxy.

The positioning of the Pleiades, Sirius and Al Nilam in respect to the zodiac is of great importance. The Pleiades star group is in the sign of Taurus, the Alpha sign of the zodiac. Sirius is in the sign of Gemini, the Omega sign of the zodiac. Al Nilam, in the Belt of Orion, is associated with the Alpha-Omega cusp—the cusp of Gemini-Taurus to which Orion points. The three thereby represent the Holy Trinity. Al Nilam is the Origin, the Pleiades signify the Creator, and Sirius is the Revealer (i.e. Source-Creation-Revelation, or Crown-Wisdom-Intelligence). Life is brought into being and governed by these three.

³ See Linda Tucker's book, Mystery of the White Lions: Children of the Sun God (Npenvu Press, Mapumulanga, South Africa: ISBN No.0-620-31409-5).